ABOUT ME

I am a B.Com student at Ness Wadia College of Commerce, Pune, with a strong passion for AI, automation, and building scalable digital products. I enjoy solving real-world problems using technology and creating systems that make operations smarter and more efficient.

As the Founder of Webloq AI and AI Technical Head, I work on AI-powered solutions, platform development, and automation that drive real impact. I have led campus-scale projects, pitched in startup events, and love turning ideas into practical products. My vision is to leverage AI and digital innovation for India's growth in infrastructure, education, and productivity.
